

Jörg Haspel, Prof. Dr. phil. Dipl.-Ing.
State Curator (Landeskonservator) and Director of the Landesdenkmalamt
Berlin

Address: Altes Stadthaus, Klosterstraße 47, D – 10179 Berlin

1972 – 1981

Studies of architecture and urban planning at Stuttgart University;
Studies of history of art and empiric cultural studies at Tübingen University

1981 – 1982

Scholarship of the Robert Bosch Foundation

1982 – 1991

Preservationist at the Senate Department of Cultural Affairs/Heritage Protection
Authority of the Free and Hanseatic City of Hamburg (Denkmalschutzamt Hamburg)

- Member of ICOMOS (International Council on Monuments and Sites), German National Committee
- Chairman of the staff council for civil servants at the Senate Department for Cultural Affairs of the Free and Hanseatic City of Hamburg
- Visiting Lecturer on history of art and folkloristics at Hamburg University

1992 – 1995

Regional Curator at the Heritage Conservation Branch of the Senate Department for Urban Development in Berlin and Environment Protection

Since 1995

State Curator and Director of the Berlin Heritage Conservation Authority
(Landesdenkmalamt Berlin)

- Founding member (2005) of the International Scientific Committee of 20th Century Heritage of ICOMOS; member of the International Committee on Theory and Philosophy of Conservation and Restoration (since 2009)
- Member (since 2010) of the advisory board of the Federal Foundation of Baukultur (Bundesstiftung Baukultur)
- Chair of the board (since 2014) of the German Foundation of Monument Protection (Deutsche Stiftung Denkmalschutz)
- Honorary Professor at the Technical University Berlin

Research, studies and publications on the history of art and architecture in the 19th and 20th centuries and on theory and practice of conservation and restoration of monuments and heritage sites.